The 2015 Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Auslese (AP #5) is clear and concentrated on the lovely aromatic nose that delivers lush pineapple and grapefruit aromas along with a very delicate slate spiciness. This is a lush yet very delicate Auslese with perfectly ripe fruit, finely piquant and crystalline acidity and a stimulatingly pure, precise and salty finish. Bottled with 7% alcohol and a rather moderate residual sweetness. Its mineral finish makes this a highly finessed and elegant gastronomic Auslese—in 10 to 15 years.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

The 2015 Wawern Herrenberg Riesling Kabinett is intense and complex on the fruity/mineral nose and exhibits a dense and stony flavor. Mouth-filling, juicy and piquant, this is a light but intense and salty, well structured Kabinett with generous fruit, stimulating crystallinity and a salty finish. Nice grip. Bottled with 8.5% alcohol.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

The 2015 Ockfen Bockstein Riesling Kabinett is clear, precise and flinty on the nose and shows a concentrated fruit aroma. Light and lush on the palate, this is a charmingly round and fruity Kabinett. Like the dry GG counterpart, it is smooth rather than piquant on the palate and reveals its crystalline, finesse-full nature and vitality only in the stimulating finish. Bottled with 8.5% alcohol.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)
2015 Von Othegraven Ockfen Bockstein Riesling Trocken GG

The 2015 Ockfen Bockstein Riesling Trocken GG is intense, ripe and concentrated on the nose. Medium-bodied, creamy and elegant, this dry Riesling cru lacks a bit of the piquancy that I consider to be the main feature of the Bockstein. On the other hand, the smoother acidity gives a pleasant, well-balanced and elegant Riesling that is ready to be drunk but can also be cellared for 10 or more years. Bottled in June 2016.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

2015 Von Othegraven Kanzemer Altenberg Riesling Kabinett (Versteigerung)

The 2015 Kanzemer Altenberg Riesling Kabinett (Versteigerung)—AP #10—is intense and smoky, beautifully pure, precise and deep on the nose, with a complex mix of perfectly ripe and aromatic fruit aromas and crushed stone flavors. Mouth-filling, round and lush, this is a very fine, elegant and perfectly balanced Kabinett with highly delicate acidity and stimulating salinity in the pretty long finish.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

2015 Von Othegraven Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Spätlese

Clear, intense and piquant in its concentrated fruit and flint stone aromas, the 2015 Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Spätlese (AP #8) has a lush and intense, very juicy and salty-piquant palate. The finish is complex, well structured and persistent. This is a gorgeous Spätlese from the younger vines in the Altenberg, but its aging potential should be excellent.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)
2015 Von Othegraven Riesling Feinherb Kabinett

The 2015 Riesling Feinherb Kabinett displays a beautifully clear and aromatic, very elegant and seductive bouquet of very fine slate and tropical fruit aromas. This is a really light, round and charming Kabinett with elegance, finesse and pleasant fruit.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

2015 Von Othegraven Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Auslese Alte Reben

The 2015 Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Auslese Alte Reben (AP #4) displays intense and delicate, finely concentrated and elegant fruit on the nose. Rich, intense and concentrated on the palate, this is a finessed, lush and highly delicate Auslese from 45+-year-old vines. It is very digestible on its own and certainly also with food, if you can wait for 15 to 20 years...

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

2015 Von Othegraven Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Kabinett

Deep and flinty, with good fruit concentration and a smoky stoniness on the nose, the 2015 Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Kabinett is piquant and salty on the palate, pure but also rich, intense and complex, with a very good grip and a persistent structure. Although it is a lighter bodied wine, I would cellar it for at least another seven years but it can surely age for 15+ years.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)
The 2015 Wiltingen Kupp Riesling Kabinett is still a bit reductive on the nose but shows a ripe Riesling fruit and delicate slate aroma. Light, lush, pure and piquant on the palate, this is a deliciously clear and elegant Kabinett classic that is light as a feather, vital and very stimulating. Bottled with 8.5% alcohol.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

The auctioned 2015 Kanzemer Altenberg Riesling Spätlese (Versteigerung)—AP #7—is super clear and fine in its intense and bright fruit aromas that are perfectly intertwined with the crystalline and smoky terroir flavors. Lush and piquant on the palate, with well concentrated and juicy fruit, remarkably fine acidity and mineral grip, this is a mouth-filling, precise and very elegant Spätlese with a long and salty, well structured finish. Great finesse and complexity here, very stimulating.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

The 2015 Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Spätlese Alte Reben (AP #6) offers a super ripe and intense Riesling flavor with slatey, lemony and candied grapefruit aromas that indicate a certain percentage of very fine botrytis. Round, rich and piquant, with nice elegance and vitality, this is a well structured and salty Spätlese with a slightly dry and phenolic finish at this early stage.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)
2015 Von Othegraven Ockfen Bockstein Riesling Spätlese

The 2015 Ockfen Bockstein Riesling Spätlese is stunningly intense, fresh and concentrated on the super aromatic nose. Intense but light and elegant, with ripe fruit and finely piquant acidity, this is a delicate Spätlese with a fine structure and stimulating purity. Bottled with 7.5% alcohol and moderate sweetness, this should be a fine food partner in 10 years.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

2015 Von Othegraven Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Trocken GG

The 2015 Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Trocken GG displays a clear, intense and aromatic bouquet of ripe and concentrated Riesling berries, yellow-fleshed stone fruits and some tropical fruit flavors. Clear and piquant on the palate, this is an elegant, pretty dry Riesling with vital yet fine acidity, good grip and a slightly salty finish. However, I miss a bit of charm and sexiness here, but this should be a classic and honest dry Riesling with a bit more complexity in a few years.

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)

2015 Von Othegraven Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Beerenauslese

The 2015 Kanzem Altenberg Riesling Beerenauslese displays a very clear and refined bouquet of super ripe and concentrated stone fruits on the nose along with grapefruit, lemon and a very delicate flint aroma. Bottled with 6% alcohol, this is a sweet, lush, finessed and perfectly balanced, almost weightless BA with a wonderfully aromatic, honey-flavored finish. Highly delicate!

- Stephan Reinhardt (February, 2017)